

Maggie Cairns
Senior Property Accountant
Commercial Properties
SUHRCO Management, Inc.

As a senior property accountant, Maggie oversees all of the accounting needs for 15 commercial properties, from payables and receivables through to financial statements, common area reconciliations, budget preparation, cash flow projections, maintenance of multiple bank accounts for each property and various accounting spreadsheets affiliated with each individual property.

She provides property owners and tenants with timely and accurate information pertaining to all financial reporting including accounts receivable, accounts payable, collections, reconciliations, owner distributions, cash flow, and all other accounting needs they may have on an individual basis.

Maggie has 25 years of accounting experience earned in a variety of industries, including brokerage recycling, commercial development and biotech pharmaceutical equipment. She also had the opportunity to own and run a retail business, along with managing several employees and co-owned an interior design and faux painting business.

Maggie is a native of the Pacific Northwest and attended Bellevue Community College.
